www.mindful.org.au/Autism-Training

What is the ADI-R?

The ADI-R is a semi-structured diagnostic interview to assess behaviours related to Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). The ADI-R typically takes between 90 minutes to 3 hours. The course is designed to teach clinicians how to administer and code ADI-R with parents/ carers of children and young people with suspected ASD.

What does the course involve?

- learn about the underlying principles of the ADI-R
- learn how to code the caregiver's responses during the interview
- observe and discuss an administration of the ADI-R with parents/carers of child or young person with ASD
- trainees have the opportunity to conduct part of a ADI-R interview and receive feedback and coding advice

Clinicians wanting to achieve research level reliability - Deborah offers the "Personal ADI-R Reliability Package". This includes scoring an ADI-R DVD administration, submission of your own recording of ADI-R, feedback and certificate once reliability is achieved. This is a separate cost from the course for those who wish to pursue reliability.

Who provides the training? - Deborah Sweeney

Deborah has been using the ADI-R and ADOS-2 in complex, multi-disciplinary assessments for over 12 years and regulatly trains health professionals in the ADI-R and ADOS-2 throughout the Asia Pacific Region.
